1. ☐ Julius Kaserne (47° 05'N - 17° 54'E)

There were about 1600 troops in the Reserve - about 700 infantry, 250 artillery, 360 signal and 300 AAA. The AAA unit was a regular army unit. All the rest of the soldiers located there took the same basic training and were then given advanced training in their respective units.

2. The ammunition dump was located about one km from the barracks. It consisted of five stone and concrete buildings. The walls were about 1 m thick. Each building was about 4 m wide, 4 m high and about 10 m long. The dump was guarded by soldiers who were taking basic training. There were seven guard posts and a guard house located in the area.
